

Dear colleague,

I am very pleased to inform you that the Faculty of Computer Science at University of Koblenz-Landau, Campus Koblenz (Germany) has now announced the call for applications to the position of a Junior Professorship in Applied Informatics, special theme Semantic Web and E-Government (W1).

The deadline for handing in job applications is 1st June 2010

The Junior Professorship will be embedded in the Institute for Information Systems Research and shall be awarded starting on first October 2010.

The applicant is meant to create a linking pin between e-government (my group) and the semantic web / web science team chaired by my colleague Steffen Staab therewith advancing the application of semantic web methods and tools in the public sector.

The detailed call for application is available under: http://www.stellenwerk-koblenz-landau.de/uploads/tx_exinitxwkjobs/43-10_FB_4_W1-Professur_ENGLISCH.pdf. Applications can be handed in either in German or in English. The German version is available under http://www.stellenwerk-koblenz-landau.de/uploads/tx_exinitxwkjobs/43-10_FB_4_W1-Professur.pdf.

I kindly ask you to forward the announcement to interested colleagues.

Besides the Junior Professorship, my research team currently seeks for a young researcher to support and complement the team working in the PEPOL project (www.peppol.eu). The position is available immediately (salary group 13 TV-L) and terminates with the end of the PEPOL project (31st October 2011).

The applicant will work within the team of implementing shared software components for the Virtual COmpany Dossier, in specific, a VCD viewer and VCD editor. He / She will work in an international project and will be involved in the pilot planning and evaluation of the VCD piloting. Expertise is required in XML, Java and other web-based technologies related to cross-organisational exchange of documents based on standard formats and technologies. A more detailed specification of the call for application is available under http://www.stellenwerk-koblenz-landau.de/uploads/tx_exinitxwkjobs/42-10_FB_4_1_0_EGr.pdf (unfortunately only in German). Interested persons hand in their job application (CV, certificates, short description of experiences and research interests, etc.) until 20th of May 2010 to wimmer@uni-koblenz.de. Please add reference 42/2010 to your submission. For any specific questions, please contact + 49 (0)261/287-2646 (Prof. Dr. Maria Wimmer – see <http://www.uni-koblenz.de/agvinf/>).

I kindly ask you to forward the announcement to interested persons.

Many thanks for your support in spreading the word on the open positions at our University.

Best regards,
Maria Wimmer
